HUMAN DESIGN NEW YEAR

The Human Design year begins when the Sun moves into Gate 41 in the Root Center in Aquarius.

This gate carries the energy to bring our ideas and dreams to form. Not getting lost in fantasy (the Shadow) or worrying about “how” but using our imagination + the power of visualization intentionally.

“Fantasy + our imagination can absolutely serve us when not taken to the place of avoidance or escapism, when instead used to visualize potential outcomes and dream big, when expanding our idea of what’s possible, or inspiring us to new heights, and followed shortly by actual goals and actions steps, by implementing manageable changes in our life. There is no step too small to begin.”

...continue reading the HD New Year on the B+F Blog.

Emptiness as pure potentiality.

It teaches us that we create our own reality.

TOOLS FOR WORKING WITH

- Big VISION (1-3 core feelings) to anchor yourself in for the year.
- Set some intentions around how you want to feel + what actions steps to take toward your desired feelings for 2024. Maybe think of winter as a time to create your foundation, to plant roots, to nurture yourself + your dreams and to shed, clear and compost what does not serve the bigger vision.
- Practice Visualization
- Get lost in dreaming about your future. Go Big! Do some future self journaling. You can use these as daily prompts.
- Enjoy getting lost in other worlds through novels + film.
- Contemplate + meditate on the creation energy of the Magician tarot card, Grandmother Spider, or Mother Maya/The Great Illusion + Kairos Archetype
- Make a vision board or Pinterest Mood Board. You can also do it on Canva and then save it to your desktop.
- Visit the content in Manifestation.
- Read through Manifesting By Design + find an element to dive deeper with.
- Explore the tools of the Third Eye Toolbox.
- Programming Partner Gate 31 - in EARTH // How we ground/anchor it // The Throat // bring the intention of love behind it.

TRANSIT BASICS

we want to be in relationship with the cosmos.

01 Personal vs. Collective/Mundane
There are always transits at play. We're always in a cosmic collective soup because we exist as part of the whole.

02 My interests lie mostly with what will affect us each most personally and how we can work WITH that energy individually.

03 Even with personal transits some will play out more internally while others more externally.

04 We focus on the outer planets for the most part. These especially include Pluto, Neptune + Uranus but can also absolutely speak to Saturn + Jupiter.

05 Transits are traditionally both sign based and orb based. I use a 3* orb with the outer planets for tighter more potent aspects.

06 The cycles and seasons of our lives are archetypically predictive. Symbolic. We can't ever know exactly how it will show up. Don't future project. Prepare.

07 We look at the significations + themes of the transiting planet applying to the natal planet and/or angle, sign + house involved.

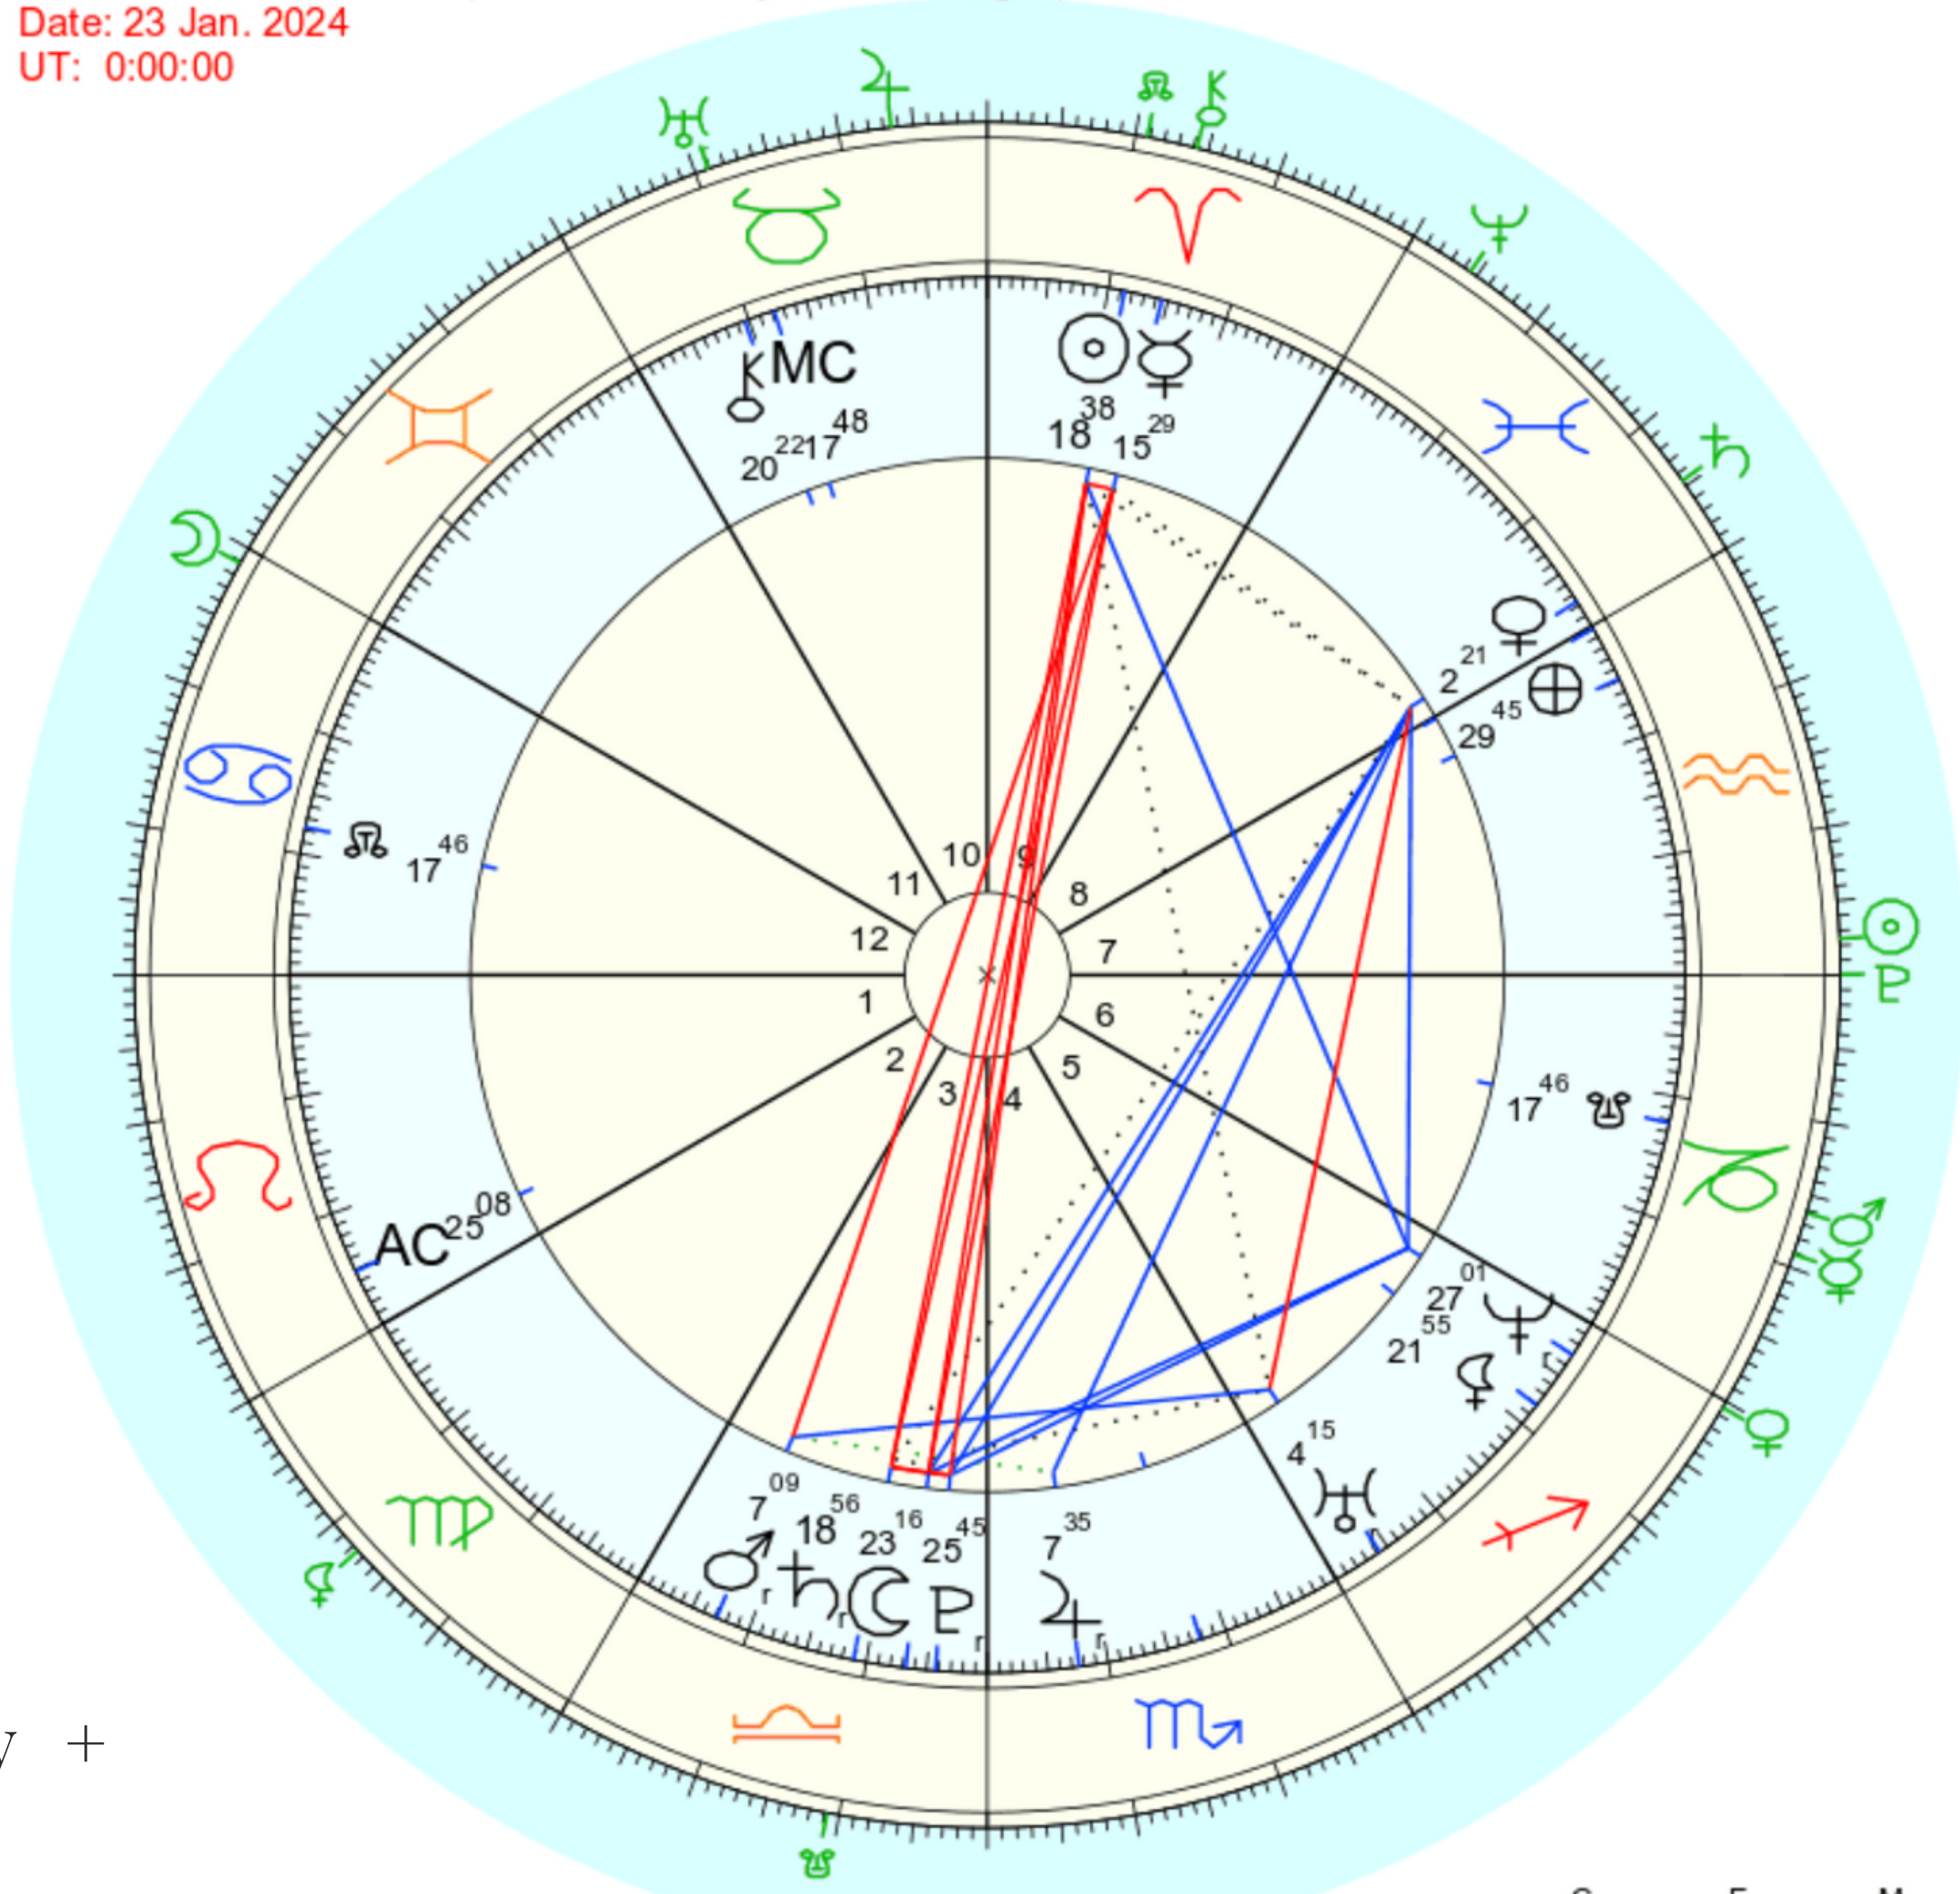

08 The transit is happening to the planet and house that natal planet resides but the house(s) that planet rules over in your chart are also at play and it can often link them in some way.

09 While we can't change a transit. We can absolutely change how we receive it, react or respond, fight it or flow.

SOME GENERAL WAYS TO WORK WITH THEM

NEPTUNE: don't fight the confusion, lean into spiritual practices, strengthen your intuitive muscles, hold off on big decisions, changes, etc... when you don't feel clarity, take more time to rest, get curious about where you might need surrender, allow for mystery + get comfy in the liminal spaces of the unknown, get creative, dream journal, get mystical.

URANUS: recognize + honor the individual you of right now, release homogenized ideas + not self, disrupt your patterns, flow with change, be mindful of rash or impulsive decisions but also allow for new insights and feelings, get weird, let your flag fly, find the ways in which you desire more freedom.

PLUTO: lean in to shadow work and Underworld initiations, get acquainted with your darker nooks + crannies with love + acceptance. Contemplate the ways in which you would like to more fully embrace your power. What needs death in your life to make space for something new?

SATURN: recognize the impermanence around feelings of melancholy, find ways to balance the seriousness with Leo + Cancer energy, deal with the reality of what is, practice greater self discipline. What needs maturation? Set boundaries, create systems, build structures that support you. Allow for some contraction understanding that small contractions are often needed for expansion.

JUPITER

Money. Expansion. Wisdom. Higher Learning. Travel. Abundance. Creation. Optimism. Adventure + exploration. Growth. Luck. Expansion. What you believe. Philosophy + Faith. The places in our chart natively or by transit where there is an ability to bounce back. Taking up space.

“Astrology is humanity’s oldest and most precise mind–map. It cannot, however, control you. The planets hold half the cards, you hold the rest. Choices you make within the astrological environment determine what actually happens to you.

We are free. No rigid, fatalistic prediction can bind us. There is no astrological event so baleful that creativity, intelligence and honest self appraisal cannot turn it to constructive uses – and there is no configuration so glorious that laziness cannot sour it.

It is to help people make better choices, to clarify the nature of the psychological terrain through which they are passing, and to serve as their ally in the endless unpredictable task of creating the future.”
